Right: Rachel Deppe, 8, of Naperville, appears on a digital video camera held by Sherry Prichodko, 8, of Aurora as they film the credits to their movie made up of Claymation characters Thursday at West Aurora High School. The two participated this week in Electronic Comic Book and Animation, a program that is part of the Young Scholars enrichment program sponsored by Aurora University. In the class, students sculpt clay figures and produce a film story about them on videotape.
